

AHAL313 : Research in Healthcare

This course introduces the student to research processes used in healthcare. Emphasis is placed on identification and clarity of research questions, research appraisal and interpretation of research articles, evidence based practice and integration of research findings into healthcare delivery.

Credits 2

Co-Requisite Courses

STAT210