

Course Load

The normal course load when pursuing a single major is 12-16 credit hours per 16-week semester. Students are encouraged to limit the total number of major and general education credit hours to no more than 18 credit hours per semester.