

BIOS150 : Scientific Literacy

This survey course explores fundamental scientific concepts necessary to function in a modern industrial society. Students will discuss historic and recent scientific theories and develop skills necessary to become a critical consumer of scientific information.

Credits 1